Superkolong – Kimberley, South Africa

Superkolong is a diamond tailings treatment operation based in Kimberley South Africa. It is a shareholder of the Kimberley Miners Forum (KMF) which purchased a large volume of Tailing Material Resource (TMRs) from De Beers in 2008. Superkolong currently has access to treat 39.4% of the TMRs held by the KMF.

Superkolong was purchased by Batla Minerals SA in February 2013 and at the time was averaging 130,000 tons per month of TMR through its plant. After a significant investment of money and time the production levels at Superkolong have been increased to a current monthly average of over 200,000 tons per month. The new installed plant capacity is 8,000 tons per day. During its 2014/2015 financial year Superkolong treated 2,221,741 tons of TMR and recovered 110,429 carats.

Batla Minerals SA CEO comments, "Superkolong is a very important project for the Batla group and we are very proud of the progress made over the past two years of ownership, with the discovery of the "Kimberley Purple" being a clear statement of the projects viability and its ability to produce something special."
